Founded in 2007, the candi dugas collective (cdc) is the only creative collective building freed·dom from within thru the arts. As a Black-centered social impact enterprise, we understand that our work builds lasting freedom for ALL by beginning with healing, by being rooted in syncretic spirituality, and by insisting on social impact.

cdc shapes stories, while honoring traditional narratives + infusing alternative approaches to recognizable issues, so that we may make meaningful + sustainable shifts to inhabit the lives we dream about - today! This kind of storytelling is what we call contemplative creativity™, a key component to The dugas Method™ of social impact (i.e., social change, equity + inclusion, DEIBA, etc.).
